WE NOMINATE

Franklin C. (Cappy) Cappon, a Princeton tradition for the past two decades and one of the country's best-known basketball coaches, who this Friday evening (April 17th)—his own protests notwithstanding—will be the guest of honor at a New York gathering of the "Clan of Cappon." Under the energetic leadership of a committee of erstwhile basketball stars, athletes and non-athletes of assorted ages, shapes and sizes will assemble for what has been conceived as a "21st birthday party" for the 58-year old Cappon who joined Princeton University's athletic staff in the fall of 1938.

Described by a Princeton Dean "as one of our great teachers with a remarkable understanding of whatever it is that makes undergraduates tick," Cappon is an unusual figure in a demanding profession. He of course plays to win, he specializes in upsetting favored opponents but never does he create the impression that his teams "must win or else." The letter announcing the upcoming "Cappy Birthday Party" pinpointed this phenomenon in these words: "Strangely enough, we have never taken special notice of the fact that Princeton has played fine basketball over the years and that Cap has compiled one of the country's outstanding records."

A newspaperman, with an aversion for basketball and a profound admiration for Cappon, whose teams have been dominant forces in the Ivy League for the past 13 years, conducted an informal survey among a number of Cappon's former pupils. To a man they described their foghorn-voiced coach as "a major influence, as a person and as a teacher, in their growing up." For example, Bud Palmer '44, now a top-flight television announcer and under Cappon one of the first collegians to perfect the deadly jump-shot, recalled Cappon as "a great winner and an even greater loser."

The bald-pated Cappon, a past president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches and probably the best-read member of an erudite university coaching staff, launched his career even before he completed his studies with the Class of 1924 at the University of Michigan. Winner of the Western Conference Medal, annually conferred upon the "Big Ten" senior best combining proficiency in scholarship and athletics, he started out at Luther College, Iowa, as head coach of football, basketball and track. He subsequently served a brief apprenticeship at Michigan and in 1926-27 was head coach of football at the University of Kansas.

Prior to migrating eastward as part of the personnel upheaval that catapulted Fritz Crisler from Nassau Street to the Michigan campus, Cappon had completed a decade at Michigan as assistant director of athletics, head coach of basketball and assistant coach of football. Here, with time-out for four World War II years with the Navy, he has contributed almost as much to the Tigers' football successes as he has to basketball. And, on the so-called "town side" of the Borough's business section, he has risen to the vice-presidency of the real estate and insurance firm of G. R. Murray, Inc.

For his outstanding contributions in the field of higher education: for endowing his teams with a personality which is distinctively Princeton's—and Cappon's: for making a habit "of doing better" than his fellow coaches deem at all logical in their pre-season evaluations; he is Town Topics' nominee for

APRIL ACTIVITY
Variety of Developments. Like the April weather, which reverted from swimming to snowballs (see box, page 4), developments on the news front during the past week have covered a wide range of topics. April sessions of the town's two governing bodies received from the Joint Citizens' Advisory Committee on Recreation a searching 52-page report examining Princeton's facilities, shortcomings and course for the future in this important aspect of community life.
The document is predicated on the fact that, "in judging Princeton's needs, one must think of Princeton as one community, not as Borough and Township." The report, representing months of effort on the part of 14 Princetonians (see below), will be analyzed in detail in upcoming issues of TOWN TOPICS.

On other news fronts, Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro became part of the Princeton scene with the announcement that he will be in town next week for an address (closed to the public) on the University campus. Whether the "demonstrations" forecast as accompanying his trip to the U.S. would spread to Princeton was a matter for speculation.
United Community Fund officials, seeking to erase a $15,000 deficit through a legalized raffle, and the Princeton Pastors' Association, differed in their views of gambling for charity's sake. In nearby Lawrence Township, Dr. Russell S. Edmonds, an 11-year member of the Board of Education, resigned in protest over board action aimed increasing reports of principal-teacher dissent, while the summer side of life arrangements were complete for the colorful, traditional YWCA International Festival. Its inevitably quickened pace had arrived in Princeton.

CASTRO DUE IN TOWN
Will Be Here Monday. Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba will be in Princeton Monday and Tuesday as part of his 11-day visit to the United States. He will attend the conference of the University's American Civilization Program and will address an invited audience of students and faculty on "The United States and the Revolutionary Spirit." He is scheduled to speak at 8 p.m. Monday in the conference room of Woodrow Wilson Hall.
It was Roland T. Ely, Constitution Hill, who suggested to University officials the possibility of inviting Premier Castro to Princeton. Mr. Ely met him some years ago when the Cuban revolutionary and Mr. Ely's cousins were students together in Cuba.
The University agreed to Mr. Ely's proposal and in March of this year, he visited Cuba twice and invited Castro, informally, to come to Princeton. President Robert Goheen later extended a formal invitation.

On Tuesday morning, the Cuban premier will go to Lawrenceville school, where Mr. Ely teaches, to lecture to students. He will lunch that day at the Present Day Club. Premier Castro will stay at the Ely home and members of his party, expected to number about five, will be at various other private homes.
Some are expected to stay at Cottage Club on Prospect Avenue.
Because of the possibility of demonstrations, Premier Castro's arrival and departure schedule has been kept secret but he is expected to leave sometime Tuesday afternoon. Borough, a 4 Township police have been alerted to the visit; however, the precautions are expected to be no more than the usual procedure followed for the visit of any head of a state.

RECREATION REPORT
Joint Control Urged. Joint ownership and control of Princeton's recreational facilities by the Borough and Township is urged in a report submitted to the mayors of the two communities this week by the Joint Citizens' Advisory Committee on Recreation.
The committee, organized that May at the request of the mayors to assess Princeton's leisure-time needs, also suggested that a fully-equipped playground be built at Community Gardens if the area becomes available for public use.

Other recommendations: general use school play facilities during non-school hours; clearing of the Borough-owned River Road Millstone River area for picnic use; improvement of the Princeton High School tennis courts; construction of basketball diamonds at the Riverside and Johnson Park school sites; development of the Township-owned Shopping Center Park and possible development of a playground in the Shady Brook area; installation—Continued on Page 2

The committee is headed by Ellis G. Willard, chairman; G. A. Speedy, vice-chairman; and Mrs. John V. A. Fins, secretary. Members include E. G. Enderby, L. P. Ferrara, Melvin Gottlieb, Mrs. Simeon Hutor, George Loom, John S. Mack, Mrs. Peter G. McCrohan, Thomas Moore, Donald Rutz, Mrs. Robert W. Sinkel, and Norman C. Van Arsdale.

PASTORS SAY 'NO'
 Disapprove Fund Raffle. Noting with dismay the proposal of the United Fund to raffie off the gifts donated by the Princeton University Store, Princeton's pastors have issued a statement "expressing the hope that plans for this raffle may still be dropped."

In the statement, drafted Tuesday at its April meeting, the Princeton Pastors' Association recognizes that United Fund directors take out raffies for the future and expect to hold "just this one." But the Pastors "wish to reaffirm publicly their opposition to charity raffies even once."

In reply, Ralph S. Mason, Fund President, reiterated the Fund's plan to proceed with the raffie, which will be held May 23. Members of the special committee studying the project pointed out that several charitable raffies have been conducted in Princeton in the past with no objection.

PERSONALITIES
 Herbert McAnany, 67 Grover Avenue, long-time faculty adviser of The Junior Journal, 32-year old magazine published by students of Princeton Country Day School, whose long hours of editorial guidance this week were a major factor in winning a first place certificate in the annual contest sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Aply taking charge at the student level are editors Joseph J. Smith, William Putney, Richard Crawford; business manager Walter F. Smith.

Nicholas Harsanyi, 111 Laurel Road, conductor of the fine Princeton Symphony Orchestra, which Monday evening completed another successful season before a McCarter standing-room-only audience. White daffodils . . . Sunday's snow was the first to fall in April since 1907 . . . and the first since 1950 that has whitened the countryside as late as the 12th of the month.

Raided out on Friday, the Borough schools' bike inspection went into high gear on Monday . . . 189 cyclists appeared and almost all bikes passed . . . the school plans a series of follow-up safety films.

Live in the Township? These roads will get a resurfacing job this year . . . Elm, Princeton Pike, Birch, John, Race, Doran, Dempsey, Cherry Hill, Franklin, Moore, Mt. Lucas, Rollingmead, Woodland Drive, Lovett Lane, Great Road, Little Brook, Arretton, Whentshear, Southern and Western Ways, Snowden, Herrington, Wilson, Clever, Cedar . . . Mt. May 6 Master Plan hearing in the Township? . . . depends on whether the reports come in from Candeub, Associates.

In Princeton, Trenton, Middlesex and Monmouth Chapters of the American Guild of Organists will meet at Westminster Choir College next Tuesday at 8 p.m. to hear four Choir College pupils in joint recital.

TAKE: The Listening Post has closed . . . Interested commuters may attend a PUG hearing this Thursday in Newark to find out what curtailments of service the Pennsylvania railroad has in mind . . . new timetables, out April 26, are said to cut some Junction stops.

New Township schools are one month behind schedule because of delayed steel deliveries.

Friendship Club's William Warfield concert, plagued by the singer's illness and a postponed date, went into the hole by $200.

Those campus cut-ups who went home for vacation in a horse-drawn buggy, ended up with a traffic ticket . . . they were clocking four miles an hour on the Tappan Zee bridge instead of 40 m.p.h. vehicles are supposed to maintain.

NAMES MAKE NEWS

Seventeen Appointments. While the councilmanic vacancy created by the resignation of Maurice A. Mather remains unfilled for the second successive month, Mayor and Council at their stated April meeting made news by appointing Borough and Township residents to a half-dozen different agencies that are concerned with the well-being of the Princeton Community.

The newly created Fire Prevention Bureau was raised to full strength with the appointment of John P. Servis, 30 Harrison Street, and Dr. Sheldon B. Kaufman, Cherry Hill Road, a member of the University's Department of Chemistry, while retired publisher James S. Thompson, 45 Parkside Drive, was named "Township Member" of the Public Library Board.

"The Home Front". The recently-constituted Township - Borough Disaster Control Council was strengthened with the designation of the following: Police Chief Raymond Mondone, Fire Chief Walter Coan, Borough Engineer Arthur T. Brokaw (reporting for duty this week); Borough Clerk to: Dr. J. Leonard Moore, 59 Westcott Road, and Richard L. Stoddard, 41 Stanworth Lane, were confirmed for three-year terms with the Board of Health. Bryan V. Moore, 30 Quarry Street, and Edward G. Hodgson, 38 Erdman Avenue, were appointed to the Borough Planning Board, and John J. Collins, 85 Jefferson Road, was named a member of the "Local Assistance Board".

Rubert F. Mooney, Councilman John B. Redding Jr., Raymond J. Rodweller (representing the First Aid Unit), James McGuire, Joseph P. Donahue and John Ne-

Other thorough news. Among the other developments at Tuesday's meeting was the announcement that the newly-acquired piece of Borough fire-fighting apparatus will be dedicated Saturday afternoon to the late Henry W. Kenarney, "for many years a fireman, foreman, president of Mercer Engine Company No. 3 and as fire chief one of the first advocates of the new high-pressure-dog equipment."

In Between's No Good

Can't wait for summer,
Love winter, too!
But I'll be glad
When spring is through!

—I. M. FROST

Good reason to feel that way, too, after the shenanigans perpetrated last week. For example: last Wednesday, children were swimming in Stony Brook and the thermometer hit 84—an all-time high for April 8. Four days later, children were throwing snowballs and the thermometer dipped to 34.

To add to the confusion, the low temperature just Thursday (53) was eight degrees higher than the best showing on Sunday, a chill 45. Things will be better, the Man promised, although only by comparison. Temperatures through Sunday will average three degrees below normal, now 48 for this area. Little or no precipitation is sight.

ing efforts in behalf of safe driving. Mayor and Council enthusiastically proclaimed the period April 17-23 as "Safe Driving Week," one of the most ambitious civic projects ever undertaken by Princeton "teen-agers."

The United Community Fund, beneficiary of last September's star-crossed opening of the Princeton University Store, has been authorized to "traffle off" the 16 prizes donated to the Fund by the U-Store, with the drawing — in accordance with the laws of New Jersey — scheduled for Saturday, May 23.

Tuesday, May 12, will be a "red-letter day" for residents of picturesque Morven Place — the one-block artery linking Boudinot Street and Hedge Road. Undoubtedly there are serious objections, the tree-lined street (referred to by several early Princeton historians as "Morven Street") will officially — and once and for all — become Morven Place.

IMPROVEMENTS VOTED

For Riverside Area. Four ordinances to provide streets and sanitary facilities in the area of the proposed Riverside School were approved on final reading this morning by the Township Committee. Public hearing on the ordinances, which will involve expenditures of more than $73,000, will be held at the regular May meeting of the committee.

Pronounced for construction under the ordinances are Prospect Avenue from Riverside Drive East to Riverside Drive West, and Riverside Drive south of Kingston Road. Sewers and sidewalks for the new portion of Prospect Avenue are also provided for. The Riverside School will be built at the corner of Riverside Drive and Prospect Avenue.

In other committee business, the controversial ordinance which brings the Township's liquor law into conformity with the Borough's was approved on second reading and thus became law. Committee Chairman J. Campbell Jr. abstained from the vote. The new law, in response to a directive from the state Alcoholic Beverage Commission, omits any mention of how long after closing hours liquor may be consumed in a tavern.

The committee accepted with thanks for valued service the resignation of Joseph Nini as clerk of the Township Council, effective May 1. The unexpired portion of Mr. Nini's term, from May 1 to December 31, will be filled by Mrs. Gladys Van Hara. Mr. Nini will continue to serve as clerk of the Township Committee.

Committeeman William W. Marvel announced that residents of the Hernton Circle area are invited to discuss their sewage and water supply problems with members of the committee at an informal meeting at Township Hall on Tuesday, April 28, at 8:30.

Norman W. Mather, owner of property on Prospect Avenue between Woodside Avenue and Riverside Drive East, told the committee he had been unable to persuade residents of the area to join him in a petition requesting a sewer line for the street, Mayor

R. Kenneth Fairman assured Mr. Mather that the committee would do whatever it could to convince the neighbors of the desirability of the sewer line.

Mayor Fairman announced the appointment of Ralph J. Belford, James G. Campbell Jr., Thomas P. Cook, Herbert McAneny and H. C. Sturhahn to represent the Township on the Joint Borough-Township Disaster Control Defense Council.

A petition was received from 28 residents of Overbrook Road, protesting the proposed change of the name of their street to Shady Brook Lane. The change was recommended by the Planning Board to take effect after the bridge connecting Overbrook Road and Shady Brook Lane is completed. The petition was tabled.

The committee approved on second reading an ordinance increasing the Township magistrate's salary from $1,800 to $2,100 annually, and one vacating Township rights to South Road, a "paper street" running west from Great Road. In other action, the posting of signs for the hospital fee on Township property was approved, and two bids for the community's road resurfacing program were opened. Low bidder, at $16,955.87, was the Kingston Bituminous Products Co.

In response to two letters deploring the "excessive freedom" given to dogs under Township law, Committee member Marvel read the relevant ordinance and pointed out that it makes provision for disciplining owners of disorderly or dangerous dogs. A possible ordinance requiring compulsory rabies shots for all dogs will be discussed at the April 29 meeting of the Health Board, Mr. Marvel said.

PRIMARIES ON TUESDAY

Extremely Light Vote Seen. With Tuesday's primary election ballot failing to include a contest in either Princeton Borough or Township, voter interest is expected to be unusually light. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.; the only new election district headquarters are those now established for the Borough's fifth, where voters will go for the new addition of the Methodist Church on Vandewater Avenue.

News Of The THEATRES

"THREE FOR ONE"

Players in Action. The Princeton Community Players will present their Spring production this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 at the Playmill, 262 Alexander Street. Entitled "Three For One," the show will include three short plays: "A Merry Death," by Nicholas Brynlow; "Riders to the Sea," by John Millington Synge; and "The Lesson," by Eugene Ionesco. Sets are under the direction of Helen Van Sant.

The three plays were selected for public production by John F. Becker from among a series of six staged previously during the year by members of the Players who participated in a Directors' Workshop which he conducted. Mr. Becker, a television and motion picture director in New York, has directed many of the Players' previous productions.

Mrs. Byron Keene is director of "A Merry Death." Members of the cast are James Hopkins, Fred Sheldon and Silvanthum Openheim, all of Princeton; Julian Wick from Princeton Theological Seminary, and Corrine Steinhilber of Rocky Hill. "A Merry Death" is notable for its departure from the conventional in settings and costumes, both of which are executed in black and white.

Director of "Riders to the Sea" is Miss Nanci Haughton. In the cast are Kit Bannard of Skillman, Nan Rickert of Franklin Park, Tyrzah Berthoff of Princeton and Tom Barry, a student at Princeton University. A tragedy, this play is considered a classic among Synge's works.

Mrs. Paul Fussell is director of "The Lesson." Members of the cast are Herbert McNulty and Jane Andrews of Princeton and Ruth Eisenmann of Douglass College. First produced abroad in 1951, "The Lesson" had its American premiere in 1957 at the Phoenix Theatre in New York.

PCD TO GIVE PLAY

This Weekend. The Dramatic Club of Princeton Country Day School will present its annual play this Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15. The Thursday performance is an innovation this year, in response to requests for an additional performance.

This year's play is again an original one by PCD teacher William Ackley. Entitled "Mr. Bottom," it is described as "the trials and tribulations of life in a military academy." Mr. Ackley is also serving as director.

Members of the cast are John Odden, Alfred Davis, Richard Crawford, Walter Edwards, Charles Stuart, Tom Reynolds, Ward Jandl, Ted Churchill, Joseph Smith and John Willis. Production assistants are Dudley Blodgett, Peter Wright, Alex Patton and Robin Kerney. Walter Smith, William Putney and William Stanley will handle lighting. In charge of publicity are Regan Kerney and Robin French.

"IOLANTHE LEAD: Lee H. Bristol, Jr., will play the Lord Chancellor in Princeton Savoyards' production April 24 and 25 and May 2 in McCarter Theatre.

"IOLANTHE" TO OPEN

Next Week at McCarter. The Princeton Savoyards' production of "Iolanthe" will open next Friday evening, April 24, at McCarter Theatre. Other shows will be Saturday evening and on Saturday, May 2 (matinee and evening).

Sets for the production have been designed by Princeton freshman Paul Glicker, whose work for the Theatre Institute's presentation of "The Revenger's Tragedy" was well received. Munroe Wade is director and Melvin Olson of the Westminster Choir College will conduct.

Tickets for "Iolanthe" are currently on sale at the Princeton University Store or may be ordered by mail from 83 Blair Hall, Princeton. Remaining tickets will be sold at the box office of McCarter before the performance.

THEATRE-IN-THE-ROUND

For Appar School Ballet. The Appar Dancers will use a modern version of a theatre-in-the-round for their new "Ballet in Latin," to be presented Saturday evening, May 2, at Princeton High School. A large, fan-shaped stage will be blocked out on one side of the high school gymnasium and the audience, as in the theatre of ancient times, will be seated higher than the dancers, not far from the action on stage. The dancers will appear out of the audience and from behind tall screens.

The stage will be lighted by spotlights overhead and others shooting from the far side of the hall, behind the audience. Lighting will be by David Patterson, Princeton High School senior, and his crew, under the supervision of Richard Wood. Proceeds from the show will go to the Appar School Scholarship Fund. The ballet will also be presented April 30 at the annual Latin Tea for Latin students and their parents.

TO STAGE "LES JUSTES"

At Murray Theatre. Albert Camus' play, "Les Justes," will be presented this Friday at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday at 3 and 8:30 in Murray Theatre by the French —Continued on Page 6

REQUIEM PERFORMED

By Princeton Symphony. For its final concert of the season, the Princeton Symphony Orchestra presented to a standing-room-only audience an exciting and tumultuous performance of the Verdi Requiem. The concert was given Monday night in McCarter Theater.

The orchestra, under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, the Symphony Choir of Westminster College under Warren Martin and four soloists accomplished the technical difficulties of the Requiem with genuine skill. It is an extremely difficult work to perform and it says a great deal for the performance level of the Symphony that Mr. Harsanyi felt he could attempt it.

Under Mr. Harsanyi's disciplined hand, the intensely operatic Requiem flowed and surged with splendid effect. The Dies Irae was lightning and brimstone. The Libera Me was as moving as Verdi must have wanted it to be.

Of the performers, the orchestra and choir were outstanding. The four soloists, Janice Harsanyi, mezzo-soprano; Rachael Armstrong, soprano; Robert Simpson, tenor and Herbert Patz, bass, did not have the big operatic voices that the Requiem demands, but they gave Signor Verdi all they had. Mr. Harsanyi was particularly fine in the Domine Iesu with its long, sustained high notes.

Princeton is extremely fortunate in its symphony. Very few towns the size of this one could produce an orchestra and chorus capable of performing so difficult a work with such notable success.

CONCERT THIS FRIDAY

By Odella, Folk Singer. A concert of folk music ranging from blues to ballads will be presented this Friday evening at 8 in McCarter Theatre by Odella, singer known for her appearances at New York's Blue Angel.

Odella, who appeared in Murray Theatre last year, has been brought back by the Theatre Intime. Tickets for the show, at $3.90 and $2.25, are on sale at the Princeton University Store and will also be available at the McCarter box office the evening of the performance.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT SET

For this Saturday, The Princeton University Glee Club will give its Freshman Prom concert this Saturday evening at 8:30 in Alexander Hall. This will be the only full-length concert to be staged in Princeton by the club this season.

The program will range from Mozart to Princeton songs. Tickets, at $1 each, are available at the Princeton University Store.

the Princeton University Store and will also be sold at the door.

AMATEUR GROUP TO MEET

This Sunday Afternoon, The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will meet Sunday afternoon at 5:15 in Miss Fine's School, Milton Gill, graduate student in the Department of Music at Princeton University, is director.

PIAN MONTOYA RECITAL

For May 1, Carlos Montoya, flamenco guitarist, will give a recital Friday, May 1, at 8:30 p.m. in Alexander Hall. The concert is being sponsored by Dana Productions.

A full-blooded Spanish gypsy, Mr. Montoya has been a favorite of America concert audiences since his arrival in the United States in 1953. He has recorded 12 LP albums and is credited with first making the flamenco guitar a solo instrument for an entire performance.

PIAN PIANO RECITALS

For This Weekend, Students of Mrs. Naomi J. Chandler will participate in two piano recitals this weekend. Both will be held at Mrs. Chandler's home, 107 Westcott Road.

The first will be a solo recital Saturday evening at 8 by Miss Nancy Dyer. Eight students will play in the second recital, to be held Sunday afternoon at 3 by Misses Martha Bassett, Benny Abrams, Nancy Sussman, Lauren Lauck, Constance Moore, Linda Plattnerberger, and Bonnie Schrader, and John Rajchman.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET

Wednesday Evening, The Princeton Music Club will meet Wednesday at 8:30 at the home of Mrs. Helen Tas, 27 Woodland Drive.

The program will consist of music for violin and piano presented by Mari Martino and Martha Norton, and piano solos by Janet Wells and Maria Pescu. Mrs. Joseph Kelsall and Mrs. Paul McKinney will be hostesses.

Dramatic Group of Princeton University. The play will be performed in French.

The French Dramatic Group is a new organization created under the joint auspices of the Theatre Intime and Le Club Francais. Serving as director is Andre Monkowski, who will play one of the three leading male roles in "Les Justes." Other members of the cast are Mademoiselle Alice Bourgois, Pierre Bonifay, Stephen Nickman, Madame Marie-Jacque Hoog and Pierre Pigeon.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Black Orchid (April 1948) is the latest in the distinguished line of pictures in which someone tries to make an honest woman out of Sophia Loren. In this case the someone is Anthony Quinn, and the film shares several obvious advantages with its predecessors. In the first place, if Miss Loren is to be made honest, she must begin by being reasonably dishonest, and these early scenes provide a good opportunity to witness her as Hollywood's version of an untamed female.

Furthermore, the process of reformation can never be a wholly pleasant one for the reformer, and this enables Miss Loren to pout intermittently. If you haven't yet had the experience of seeing Miss Loren pout, it's about time you switched off the TV and familiarized yourself with this particular natural phenomenon. At the opening of the plot, a term we shall use for want of a more descriptive one, we find Miss Loren pouting furiously. She is guilt-ridden because her desire for material wealth has driven her husband to a life of crime and an untimely demise. What's more, her 12-year-old son has been committed to a reform school because of his inability to reconcile himself with the Western legal code.

At this juncture she is introduced—Continued on Page 8

IT'S NEW To Us

BUTTERFLY IN THE PARLOR
Framed, Of Course. You may now have a splendid collection of butterflies without even owning a net, much less going to the trouble of tramping the Brazilian jungle in search of some specimen or other.

Your collector is a Princeton resident named Arnold Jacobs who impales butterflies in his spare time, mounting them against becoming pieces of drapery fabric and framing them in fine antique frames. You may see them at Masselos on Witherspoon and at George Habeeb. He also does bugs.

Mr. Jacobs buys his butterflies, he does not net them. They come folded, and he gently unfolds them, ponders their varying and invariably brilliant colors and then decides how they should be framed.

In his boxes, he has butterflies from Tibet and Madagascar and from South America and Formosa and even — how exotic can one be? — from West Germany. Some are the iridescent electric blue ones you've seen often before, but most of the others are more unusual.

There is the owl butterfly, five inches long, with one dark side and one side like the face of an owl. There is one that looks like two elm leaves in late autumn, another an inch and a half long with tremendous antennae longer than he is.

One seems made of brown velvet, with bright green spots which are feathered at the edges. A dazzling black and green one looks like a masquerader.

A small yellow and white one might be a piece of lace. There are some so beautifully marked on both upper and under sides that Mr. Jacobs mounts them on a mirror. (Yes, there are orange and black models to choose from.)

More On The Line

The Clothes Line on Palmer Square has extended its stock to include a line of clothes for little boys up to size 6. In the past, the shop has had only clothes for very little boys and has left completely bare the size range from toddler to six. In the new collection, you'll find some very masculine shorts (zip fly) in checks of two browns and white, or two blues and white. There is a bibbed pair in light blue cord, too.

Shirts are cotton jersey or mesh, with crew necks or little collars. There are solids, (like the ship-shapenavy), red and white stripes and some pleasing geometric patterns.

After the weather warms a bit, there will be swimming trunks from Cole of California.

Now about the bugs. There is one which Mr. Jacobs says is a banana-eating beetle, and it could well be; it's big enough to eat a watermelon. It did not perform its banana-eating act for us, being dead, but it showed a three-inch-long body and some awesomely legs. It is roughly orange and black, although the orange is closer to red.

We liked best the colony of iridescent beetles, one of them a long, smooth, sleek oval about half an inch wide and two inches long. There are scarabs and beetles that look like scarabs. A mounting of any of these would add quite a flair to a man's den.

Mr. Jacobs, who may be reached in the evening at WA 4-0202, sells his framed friends for $3, $5, $7.50 and on up to $25. If you wish, he will use your own drapery fabric as a mat and your own frame.

Quartz for Cooking. "Radiant Queen" refers, not to the monarch of her kitchen, but to a new radiant cooker which is now available from H. B. Wu Appliances, 233 Mount Lucas Road, $59.95 ($90 with rotisserie).

The Radiant Queen is a three-decker unit which you stand on a table, inside now or outdoors later, assuming you have an outdoor plug arrangement. The bottom deck is a tray, the middle deck is an adjustable shelf on which you put steak, hamburger, chicken, fish or frozen vegetables. The top deck holds the radiant quartz heat element that does the cooking.

You put the food on the rack and raise the rack to a hair's breadth of distance from the quartz element. (If you want to, you can touch the food to the element and sear the steak for half a minute or so.)

Cooking times are short: three to five minutes for steak, one minute per side for hamburger. For frozen vegetables, you cook with the tray as far from the heating unit as possible, using only a pat of butter and no water.

The Radiant Queen is open all around, not closed in like a rotisserie. It uses a sheet of quartz to radiate heat over the food that is placed below it. The even, radiant heat is said to cook without drying and to tenderize as it cooks, making it particularly useful for the less expensive cuts of meat.

For charcoal flavor, you touch the meat to the quartz, thereby searing in the juices of the meat. This process is also said to give a piece of steak charcoal flavor. As for maintenance, the Queen's quartz unit cleans itself. The food tray comes clean with rinsing in hot water. There are no dials or switches. You plug in, let the unit warm and then go ahead.

For Large Sizes. A special rack of skirts for large sizes has been set up at Bailey's in the Princeton Shopping Center and for women who are difficult to fit, there is a wide selection in fabric and style.
Sizes, in waist inches, go from 32 to 40. There are straight-cut skirts in solid shades, and some in bright plaids that say boldly, "I don't care what size I wear." One skirt is surrounded by box pleats, another is gathered at the waist. Corduroy has been used in some models but most of the skirts are wash-and-wear cottons.

In standard sizes, Bailey's has other spring and summer clothes, most of them drip-dry. For example, take a yellow (white or rust) blouse, to be worn inside or out. It has roll-up sleeves and a shirt collar and it costs $7.95.
A short-sleeved dress of dactron and cotton comes in subdued shades of sage gray, pale blue and beige. An Ascot in tie print fills in the low shirt neckline. Groups of little pleats soften the skirt. The dress is a handsome spring staple, for $16.95.

Another spring staple might be the English raincoat, self-lined, with slash pockets and a fly front. It goes up to size 44 for $22.95.

There is an interesting gathering of sample suits on the Bailey rack. Most of them have short jackets, all are wool. Tweeds, flannels and mohair are all represented.

A black and white tweed has a short jacket that speaks for itself in brief words. A rust wool flannel is more relaxed and fluid with a soft shawl collar.
Bright red mohair makes a straight skirt and very short jacket lined with polished cotton in a pink and red carnation print. The same print has been used to make a jockey-neckline blouse and skirt. That's an ensemble for you.

Another ensemble, this one for summer, consists of a white embroidered sheath with shallow scooped neck. The same white fabric goes into a straight skirt with a little jacket, short on length but wide on collar. Wear the jacket with skirt or sheath. You may buy the pieces separately; dress is $14.95, suit is $16.95.
In the lingerie department, Bailey's has neocruiser print pajamas which come with baby doll pants and full-length ones. Let the coolness of the evening decide which you wear.

A maternity top for warm days is made of white pique trimmed with runners of inch-wide red print bands. The neckline is a deep rectangle, the sleeves are bare.

You are aware, of course, that Bailey's has a very large, very complete uniform department. Know what you can buy there now? Maternity uniforms.

duced to Quinn, a frightfully moral yidowder with a grown daughter. As Quinn is trying to rehabilitate Miss Loren, we learn of the rocky romance between his daughter and her fiancé. For change of pace, Miss Loren's son runs away from the reformatory when it becomes apparent that Quinn will not allow her to marry a gangster friend of her late spouse. Such an alliance would have provided a legally acceptable home for the boy and ended his confinement. In the climactic scene, Miss Loren faces Quinn's effort to find a way out of everybody's problems. The film is in VistaVision.

PAIR AT PLAYHOUSE: Sophia Loren and Anthony Quinn are on Playhouse screen this weekend.

Thunder in the Sun. (April 19-21) is a gimmick Western, the gimmick in this case being that the familiar westward pilgrimage is made by a group of fiercely independent Basques. The picture is in Eastman color and stars Susan Hayward, Jeff Chandler and Jacques Bergerac, none of whom seems especially happy about being involved in it.

The story concerns the familiar tribulations of those who traveled West in the 1840's, spiced with a love interest between Miss Hayward and Bergerac and a hate interest between Miss Hayward and Chandler. The only major departure from convention occurs when the travelers battle some objectionable redskins with tactics learned in the Pyrenees. The scene is delightfully un-American and effective.
"Thunder in the Sun" was written by Guy Trosper and James Hill and produced by Clarence Green for Seven Arts Productions. Russell Rouse directed.

THE GARDEN
The Crucible (April 17-18), originally billed as "The Witches of Salem," is a French adaptation of Arthur Miller's play, rewritten for the screen by Jean-Paul Sartre. Incongruous as this combination may seem, nothing is lost outside of the language of old New England, and a good deal is gained. Sartre's version is an improvement, and Director Raymond Rouleau and his cast add a high degree of emotional perception.

Mylene Demongeot plays the sexy witch who is accused of being a "witch" while Yves Montand turns in a convincing role as the husband who gives in to the temptations of the flesh (Mme. Demongeot) and later goes to a hero's death. His strongly moral puritan wife is portrayed very Simone Signoret, and Director Rouleau proves his versatility by serving as the unscrupulous judge. The setting is still in Salem for all intents and purposes, with costumes which are easily Puritan. As the reaction to the trials of the "witches" runs through the closed community, the film reveals the social disintegration going on. The adaptation has done no Miller's work a timeless value.

Three Coins in the Fountain. (April 20) continues the Garden's new policy of reviving a bit of other years for a Monday showing only. Clifton Webb, Dorothy McGuire, Jean Peters and Louis Jordan star in this romantic comedy.

The Sins of Rose Bernd (April 21-25) is a tale of seduction and disillusionment as the men chase Maria Schell, playing the pretty maid of the title. A well-known play by Gerhart Hauptmann, the German Naturalist, it was first produced around the turn of the century. Although his outcry against a society that approves of taking and forgetting has lost some of its power in the intervening years, it is still a dramatic story written along lines of timeless appeal.

Miss Schell's pursuers include Raf Vallone, a muscular young fellow who wins her heart but has little intention of being true, and Leopold Eiberti, her employer who makes the traditional stroll to her bedroom in the middle of the night. The heroine becomes a bitter woman, but, with the help of another man (Hannes Messemer) faces the future with the hope of making a better life.

DR. EDMONDS RESIGNS

From Lawrence School Board. Dr. Russell S. Edmonds resigned from Lawrence Township's Board of Education Monday night during a lengthy session in which he protested the Board's decision to form a new committee to examine policy in regard to teacher credentials.

The Board's vote to form the new committee grew out of its decision to dismiss a teacher who has been the object of much recent controversy. Dr. Edmonds agreed with the Board in its 6-3 vote not to renew the teacher's contract (she has taught for only two years and so does not have tenure); however, he felt that the Board's new committee would duplicate and undermine the work of the education committee, which he heads.

The teacher involved was supported by almost 20 parents whose children are in her classes. She has not been told precisely why her contract will not be renewed, but the Board has reportedly found her "incompatible" with the principal and other teachers in her school.

There have also been unconfirmed rumors that the principal in the school involved is incompatible with many other teachers. Turnover and teacher dissatisfaction have reportedly been high and these factors have apparently

THREE ARE FINED

In Campus Crash Aftermath. Three college students who were involved in an automobile accident on the Princeton University campus March 22 were fined $35 each by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Borough Court this week. Dorothy Irszang, 19, and Karen Loeller, 19, Siddmore College students, and David Reul, 19, a Princeton sophomore, were convicted under a State law which prohibits minors from knowingly possessing alcoholic beverages in an auto. A similar charge against Alfred B. Miller, 19, another Princeton sophomore, was dismissed.

In special court session, Miss Rette McGowan, 33, 216 John Street, was given a six-month suspended sentence for disorderly conduct, while William McIntosh, 54, 31 Mann Avenue, was sentenced in the workhouse for 30 days on a similar charge.

Fined for traffic offenses were John T. Valdes, 35, 566 Kingston Road, $50 for careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident; Mrs. Lillian Hardgrove, 46, 13 Witherspoon Street, $15 for driving on the sidewalk; Henry Elebura, 50, 4 Spring Street, $30 for improper registration and expired inspection sticker; and P. T. Carter, 210 Mercer Street, $15 for improper registration.

LEAGUE SPONSORS MEETING

On Recreation Report. Five members of the Joint Borough-Township Advisory Committee on Recreation will discuss their re-

Funds Due For 206 By-Pass

Federal funds for the long-discussed by-pass for Route 206 are expected to be allocated to the State Highway Department. Mayor Raymond F. Male reports this week (see page 17) The cut-off would divert through traffic, now on the State Road and Bayard Lane, north of the community to U.S. 1.

While Mayor Male and Township Mayor Fairman look upon the development with favor, Rocky Hill Mayor Grace A. Gurisic and the council in that borough have taken a strong stand against the route proposed for the by-pass. Under present plans, they declare, the new highway would take some 24 acres of Rocky Hill property, decreasing the municipality's taxable land by more than eight percent.

Mayor Gurisic attacks the proposed alignment for the by-pass as "ruinous to her community" in that it would deprecate property and seriously curtail Rocky Hill's opportunity for growth. A public meeting was scheduled for Wednesday night of this week in the Rocky Hill fire house, and plans were made to circulate petitions against the highway cutting through any part of the borough's land.

Recently completed report at an open meeting of the Princeton League of Women Voters. The meeting will be held Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Simeon Butcher and Ellis Willard, Hutter members of the Committee, will be present. Mrs. John V.A. Fine, Melvin Gottlieb and George Speedy will represent the Township. Mrs. Edwin Gatchell will serve as chairman.

At the meeting, material will be available explaining the background of the League's stand in support of the Joint Commission. Members of the panel will discuss existing local facilities, the needs of the community, criteria used in preparing the report and recommendations.

SPARE THE ROAD?

P.T.A. Panel at Valley Road. "Aspects of Discipline," a panel discussion sponsored by the Parent-Education Committee of Valley Road P.T.A. will be held Tuesday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Valley Road library.

Jack Vernon of the psychology department of the University will moderate and the participants will be John McKenna, principal of Valley Road and Frank Harolan, Township school psychologist.

ELECTION SCHEDULED

By Borough P.T.A. New officer will be elected by the Borough P.T.A. at a meeting Thursday, April 23, at 8 p.m. in the Quarry Street School auditorium. There will also be a panel discussion on "Pitfalls of the Speedup."

Candidates for office are: President, Mrs. John J. Fischer; vice-presidents, Mrs. W. F. Stohlman, Mrs. Jesse Markham; recording secretary, Mrs. Howard Magard; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. A. Lively; treasurers, Mr. and Mrs. John Viguers.

I BEG YOUR PARDOON—AM I TRESPASSING? Dogs who are allowed to run loose present home-owners with a vexing problem this time of year. Shuffles, a Basett hound with manners, asks permission before scrambling through the fence. The dog, who belongs to Mr. and Mrs. John Becker, State Road, expresses her opinion in greater detail below.

Question of the Week

Question: Do you consider dogs which are allowed to run loose a problem? If so, what should be done about it?

Where asked: Around town.

Mrs. Frederick M. Porter, 202 Birch Avenue, technical worker at RCA: I do think they are a problem if allowed to run loose. They make themselves a nuisance and are destructive. I love dogs myself, but I think they should be fenced in.

Mrs. K. Dexter Miller, Province Line Road, housewife: I'm in favor of having them fenced in because cars and other things do a lot of damage to the dogs. I don't think civilization is set up to have dogs run loose any more. I have a whole kennel full and every time I sell one, I suggest taking it out only on a leash if they don't have a fenced yard. As far as the damage the dogs do when they run loose, I'm sure that if it is serious enough people would be willing to file a complaint. But they should object to the neighbors before going to the police.

Shuffles, State Road. Actually, I've been bawling up on this question for some time. No question about it: a newly-dug, newly-planted flower bed is the best safety-deposit for a bone. However, no well-bred dog would dream of digging in her own master's flower bed. Disloyal. Now, I know the most marvelous tulip-bed just up the road . . .

Edward Stimmon, 461 Ewing Street, retired chauffeur: Yes, I absolutely do. I don't think any dog should be allowed to run loose. Especially in hot weather, they get overheated and bite a child quite easily. I think anyone who loves to have dogs should think enough to keep them under control. The Township should take necessary steps to stop them from running loose.

Mrs. James Harford, 58 Deerpath, housewife: We have had a problem, but I seem to like our neighbors better than their dog, so I don't mind a bit.

Dr. D. B. Craig, 537 Stockton Street, veterinarian: No, except where the dog is of known vicious nature. In cases where dogs bother neighbors in some ways it is a thing which should be taken care of between neighbors. From a safety point of view, a dog is better off tied up. But, on the other hand, from my experience, I don't think dogs are very happy tied up or confined.

What Does The Law Say?

An advertisement and a letter in Town Topics and letters read at Monday night's Township Committee meeting have aroused interest as to what the Borough and Township ordinances have to say about the freedom of dogs. In both municipalities, the canines are allowed to run loose, with the owner responsible for any damage done.

The police chiefs can order a dog confined which creates a nuisance (such as barking all night), after a written and signed complaint. Township clerk Joseph Nini feels the present set-up is adequate to meet any dog problem, "provided people come in and complain."

But, the problem is to get them to sign a complaint, according to Mr. Nini. He said people call up and want something done, but "won't give their name, the name of the dog's owner, or what the dog has done."

Mrs. Leslie Burns, 67 Dempsey Avenue, housewife: We fenced in our back yard, so we don't have any problem except in the front yard. I think unless they are a nuisance to someone in the neighborhood, they should be allowed to run free. I think the present system is a fair way to do it. It seems too bad to confine all dogs.

John C. Williams II, 120 Winant Road, advertising executive: I think dogs on the loose are a problem. Frankly, what we should do is to keep dogs from going into swimming pools. I don't think there should be an ordinance, but people should curb them on their own.

EXPANSION PLANNED

Of Princeton Laboratory. Plans for major expansion of its Central Research Laboratory in Princeton have been announced by the Food Machinery and Chemical Corp. The addition, a large wing, will result in an increase of more than 30 per cent in laboratory floor area, to be used for the application research and technical sales-service activities.

Following the architectural plan of the present building, the wing will be constructed of red brick, aluminum and large expanses of glass. It is expected to be completed early next year and will be principally visible from the Plainsboro Road.

Most of the new wing will be occupied by the Laboratory Research and Development Department, under the direction of Hans O. Kauffman of Princeton. The staff of FMC's Princeton laboratory will be approximately 200 immediately after the wing is completed and is expected to increase to 250 a year or two thereafter.

CONANT TO SPEAK

This Thursday Evening, Dr. James E. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University, will report on secondary school education in the United States at a meeting this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Princeton High School.

Dr. Conant has recently completed a series of personal visits to schools in 20 states during a study sponsored by the Carnegie Corporation of New York. His address here is under the joint sponsorship of the High School, its PTA, and Educational Testing Service.

MASS METHODS HIT

By President Goheen. Mass methods of teaching are condemned by President Robert F. Goheen of Princeton University in an article in this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post. The article, written by Harold

H. Martin, is entitled "Bright Young Boss of Princeton."

Mr. Martin quotes Dr. Goheen as saying that he believes education by mass methods, in which students "peer at television screens, listen to recordings or sit torpidly in huge lecture halls, passively receiving neatly packaged facts, can only result in mass mediocrity."

The value of a rounded education is also emphasized by Dr. Goheen in the article. "It would be to our own peril," he is quoted as saying, "if we let the vigorous rise of Soviet science and technology prescribe the curricula of our schools." He stresses the importance of the knowledge of philosophy and history in making intelligent moral, social and political judgments.

RED CROSS HAS $35,500

Returns Still Incomplete. With returns from several districts and from business and special gifts chairman still to be tabulated, the Red Cross has collected $35,500 in its 1959 membership and fund drive. It was announced this week by Jerald S. Hanks, general chairman.

Mr. Hanks praised the efforts of all volunteer workers in the drive and singled out Mrs. Thomas Bocaninus for special mention. Mrs. Bocaninus, a division commander, completed the solicitation of her own Stanwath area and took over direction of the Great Road area when the regular division commander was unable to complete the canvass.

In regular Red Cross activities, Mrs. Mary Sage announced the organization's blood donor program provided 100 pints of blood for Princeton Hospital patients during March. A group of nurses' aides is completing training at the hospital under the supervision of Mrs. Howard McMorris and Mrs. Leonard Kraus, while two first aid courses were given to university students by Patrolman Frank McGuire of the Borough Police and M-Sgt. Harvey Fish of the Army ROTC staff. Dr. E. Calvin Moore and Mrs. John Stout II were in charge of a Gray Ladies course at the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute.

Dr. Spitzer's work has drawn acclaim from fellow scientists for many years. As long ago as 1954, he told the biannual conference of the Association of Princeton Graduate Alumni that "It was only a question of time before scientists developed a kind of space satellite that would make recordings of celestial activities while stationed hundreds of miles above the earth's surface and circling the world once every few hours." Report from THE MAYOR

Federal Aid For By-Pass. Important news is contained in a letter just received from State Highway Commissioner Dwight L. G. Palmer. "You will be interested to know," says the Commissioner, "that we have just had approval from the Federal Government for inclusion of such a route (the Princeton By-Pass from Route 206 to Hightstown) in the Federal Aid System. This will, of course, make the advancement of this project more certain and should be a source of considerable satisfaction to you who have worked so energetically and, if I may add, effectively for this accomplishment for Princeton."

Concerns About Alignment. Naturally, the consulting engineers recently engaged to pinpoint the by-pass alignment have not completed their studies. But already a number of property owners in Franklin Township and other affected areas have expressed concern.

At last week's Open House session, the Mayor received a visitor who expressed worry over the State's plans on this. The Mayor relayed to the State Highway Commissioner the fact that some people, in an apparent attempt, to create some panic sales of properties, had stirred up unnecessary unrest and fear about the project.

The Mayors Consult. Naturally, the Princeton community stands to benefit immensely from the by-pass and related highway planning. Over the past weekend, therefore the two Princeton Mayors were together twice to discuss these matters.

Out of the discussions came plans to invite appropriate representatives from our neighboring municipalities, from the three counties directly affected, and from the State Highway Department. Commissioner Palmer has agreed to cooperate and to supply wall-sized maps of the area under discussion.

Mayor Fairman has done a great deal of preliminary discussion with major landholders in the area. The Mercer County Engineering and Planning Departments are very much interested in the traffic circulation problems in the community. The time seems ripe for major gains in a strong cooperative venture among the many public agencies interested in the short and long-run road patterns in and around Princeton.

Crowded Calendar. Along with the agenda preparation session of Council, a session with the planning board, and the regular weekly Open House, the Mayor's calendar last week included: a planning meeting of the White House Conference on Youth; the monthly traffic safety meeting (accompanied by Chief McDonough); the Library-sponsored reception for Princeton authors (for which the Public Library staff earned well-deserved praise); a brief talk, along with Mayor Fairman, at the awards presentation to 70 youngsters in the Junior Rifle program of the P.Y.P.; and a luncheon meeting and seminar at the Library Trustees' Institute (along with fellow-Trustee Jean McDonough, Librarian Margaretta Barr, and State Librarian Roger McDonough).

"Tell It To The Mayor." This Thursday and next the Mayor will again welcome citizens to the regular weekly open house sessions at Borough Hall from 7 to 10 p.m. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings. If a question can be answered by telephone, just call WA 4-3118.

SPORTS In Princeton

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

All Tiger Teams in Action. The only weekend of the spring season when every Princeton team is in action at home will give sports fans a wide choice this Friday and Saturday. The program includes two Ivy League baseball games, one of which hooks up as a part of a doubleheader with lacrosse; golf, tennis, track and a three-race regatta on Lake Carnegie.

Brown will open the Ivy title chase for the Tiger nine Friday at 4, with Army on tap Saturday at 1. Navy will complete an attractive twin bill on University Field in a lacrosse game at 4 o'clock.

Other action includes a track meet against Columbia in Palmer Stadium, golf and tennis against Brown and Georgetown, respectively, and freshman, junior varsity and varsity crew races against Navy. The first race is set for 4:45—see Calendar of the Week, page 12, for the complete schedule of all weekend events.

CREW FACES TROUBLE

Tigers Inexperienced. Because its opponents this season almost uniformly are well equipped with veteran material, Princeton's graduation-riddled crew may be in for a rough season. The Tigers will defend the Navy Cup in their opening regatta this weekend, but the visiting middlemen are favored to return the trophy to Annapolis.

Tenn will enter an all-senior boat in the Charles Cup regatta on April 25, while Harvard, Yale and Cornell, all on the schedule in early May, appear to have greater ability than the Tigers can handle. A year ago, the Orange and Black defeated Navy on the Severn River but could not win again during the 1958 season.

BALL TEAM NEEDS HITS

Pitchers Under Pressure. Unless Princeton's baseball team can give its pitchers better support at the plate, hopes for major improvement over last year's seventh-place finish in the Ivy League will go out the window. Winning only two of their first five games, the Tigers needed the best performances they could get from their batters to keep from dropping five straight. Bill Douglas and Hernu Beltz shut out Seton Hall and C.C.N.Y. by respective scores of 2-0 and 3-0. Beltz limited the losers to two hits, his mates earning a narrow edge in the slugfest when they got three.

Weekend games against Rider College and Georgetown were rained out, giving Eddie Donovon no reason to rejoice as he seeks to sort out the best infield material. The Rider contest was rescheduled for Tuesday—see page 21 for results.

Every Princeton pitcher who has seen more than an inning of action except Joe Burns has shown good ability on the mound, with Beltz and Douglas the best bets to date. Burns has not been at his best, following late last week's loss at New Brunswick last week when Rutgers triumphed, 5-3.

LACROSSE TEAM LOSES

Tigers Soundly Thumped. An attack that was more than Princeton's best was soundly thrashed by Cornell, 10-1, in a game that was more than Princeton's best.

RIGHT-HANDER IS READY: Hernu Beltz, ace of Princeton pitching staff, will hurl one of first Ivy games this weekend against Brown and Army.

ton's inexperienced lacrosse team could contain gave Johns Hopkins a 24-3 triumph last weekend over the Tigers at Baltimore. The victors, picked to replace Army as national champions, broke away from a 4-1 lead at the end of the first period with a seven-goal onslaught while blanketing Princeton in the second round.

Earlier in the week, Mount Washington of Baltimore gave the Orange and Black a 19-2 drubbing. Expectations are that it will be much closer against Navy this weekend, despite the one-sided scores last week. Ferris Thompson's Squad appears capable of giving all but the very top teams a close battle.

"CONTROLLED OPTIMISM"

As PHS Track Opener Nears, Coach Win Niles feels "controlled optimism" over the chances of his Princeton High School track team in the upcoming season. The Little Tigers will open against a tough New Brunswick squad on Wednesday.

Princeton High should be especially strong in the weights, where Edgie Applegate should turn in top performances, and the quarter-mile, where Bob Cooper will be outstanding, according to Coach Niles. "We should be fair in the sprints too," he added.

Joining Cooper in the quarter will be Eric Fisher, Jim Lovell and Marty McGuinn. Track captain Wynne Jennings and Tim Hinds will run both the sprints and the 220, while the trio of Laurence Fisher, Jerry Cyruss and Arthur Barker will handle the high and low hurdles. Coach Niles reports John High may be a "real headliner" in the last mile, followed by Tom Harvey and Steve Vlastos. Dick Lapan and Nelson Coughlin will run the mile.

In the field events, Niles expects to use Hinds, Fletcher and jump; and field events captain freshman Dick Bedford for the high jump; Hinds, Fischer and possibly Tom Clark for the broad jump; and field events captain Roger Nicoll, Jack Copeland, Charlie Jones and Dave Kilgore for the pole vault. Weight men, in addition to Applegate, will be at his best, following late last week's loss at New Brunswick last week when Rutgers triumphed, 5-3.

Coach Niles has already been hit hard by ineptibility, which claimed two runners and a best high-jumper. "But it's no where near as bad as last year, when we lost six top men at the first meet," he commented.

The schedule: New Brunswick, April 22; Penn Relays, April 21 and 22; Long Branch, April 18; Steinert, May 1; Hightstown, May 6; Highland Park, May 13; Hamilton, May 15; Somerville, May 18; Trenton Central, May 22; New Jersey Conference, May 27; Central Jersey meet, May 30; State meet, June 6.

NO SENIOR STARTERS

PHS Nice to Meet Trenton. Since the trip to Washington cuts out three days of practice next week for seniors, Coach Harry Zoll plans to open the season with only juniors and sophomores. The Princeton High School baseball squad will meet Trenton High here Friday in the first contest of the Little Tigers' 16-game slate.

WE Congratulate

PETE MORGAN
Princeton Track Coach

Princeton's indoor track team finished last in the Heptagonal Meet at Ithaca early in March, scoring only a single point. Last week, the Tigers traveled to Virginia and swept three meets against as many opponents by margins ranging from eight to 41 points. Although not believed against colleges as strong as the Ivy League's best, the victories were a major morale boost for Princeton track fortunes. The sport has many a hurdle to clear in its efforts to maintain strength equal to the Tigers' traditional opponents, and this past winter forerunners reached an all-time low. Biggest problem is the lack of indoor training facilities, since Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Army, Navy and others in the east all have long had field houses. Princeton, in contrast, is just barely entering the planning stage.

The fact that track spreads over a six-month season, indoors and out, creates academic problems for a part of the squad. Injuries, too, take their inevitable toll—last year Dick Edmunds, who set a varsity record the first time he competed as a Princeton freshman, was lost to the team all winter.

Pete Morgan, now in his 14th year as Princeton coach, has had the patience to ride out adversity. He has worked hard and long with the material at hand, taken to the cold and wet days philosophically and been grateful for early spring sunshine whenever it appears to further conditioning of his personnel.

Last week, Morgan's Orange and Black operatives opened their southern invasion with an unexpected victory over Virginia Military, 69% to 61.2/3. Two days later, they trounced the University of Richmond, 85 to 44, winding up the tour on Saturday with a 79-52 triumph over Virginia.

Included among the results were double victories in each meet credited to Captain Bob Manning and Bob Fisher in the field events; three successive wins for Pete Harwood in the 220 and for Pete Kingston in the two-mile; for the mile relay quartet and for Edmunds in the 440. Best news of all, possibly, was Edmunds' 4:9.6 quarter, not far off the record he set for the distance last spring.

A Notre Dame honors graduate who compiled one of the top scholastic coaching records at Trenton High School before coming to Princeton in 1946, Morgan fits perfectly into the pattern here as a coach who earns his team's devotion and respect while getting the most out of his material. In the year ahead, as the track picture brightens at Princeton, a major share of the success will be traceable to his coaching contributions.

Zoll plans to use veteran southpaw Jack Lackey on the mound against the traditionally-tough Trenton squad. He will be working with either Bill Weisenberg, another of the five returning left-handers, or Ed King.

Other probable starters, still "subject to change without notice" according to Zoll, include: John Rogerson at first, Boyd Bergen at second, veteran Bruce Sandvich at short, and Jack Hawkins on third. Rogerson, Sandvich and Hawkins are all pitchers as well as infielders.

In the outfield, it will probably be Dick Olsen in center and Bob Warshefski in left. The rightfielder will be either Ricky Harford or Archie Freeman, depending on whether Trenton starts a left or a right-handed pitcher.

ADDITIONAL TRYOUTS SET

For American Legion Team. A second set of tryouts for the American Legion junior baseball team has been scheduled for the next two Sundays, April 19 and 26. The team is sponsored by Princeton Post No. 76, American Legion, and the Princeton Chapter, Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

Boys under 18 as of next September 1 and attending school in either Princeton Borough or Princeton Township are eligible to play on the squad. John H. Houghton, chairman of the Post No. 76 baseball committee, will attend the tryouts. Also on hand will be coaches Joseph H. Coffey, Edward C. Meyer and John F. Petrone.

Players signing with the team must agree to remain on the squad for the entire season. Although there is no initial limit on the size of the roster, the squad must be cut to 16 by June 3 when it opens against Hightstown Post No. 148 at Peddie.

BOWLING NOTES

Shelton Facee "A" Loop. Shelton Motors (44) added six victories this week to lengthen its edge over the rest of the "A" League at Princeton Recreation Center. Knights of Columbus and Fehr Hardware, with 38 wins each, are deadlocked for the runner-up slot. Bill Sculerati's 205 was the league's high individual game for the week.

Mater and Baldwin remained at the top of the industrial loop with 42 triumphs, seven ahead of second-place Nassau Del. Top individual scores were posted by Rudy Lehnert, 224, and Bill Sculerati, 207. In the "B" League, Tiger Bus increased its win total to 32 to retain first place, two games ahead of National Guard. High series were bowled by Rudy Cavanaugh, 249-132-216 (657), and Joe Baldino, 225-218-199 (652).

Belle Mead continued to pace the Tri-County Firemen's League, adding two victories for a total of 52. Second-place Princeton Company No. 1, however, is pressing the Belle Mead squad. The Princetonians, four games behind last week, added four wins to put themselves in striking range only two victories off the mark. Kingston (48) is third.

Cifelli Electric posted three wins to the Cranbury Inn at 71-41 for the lead slot. In the Women's Industrial loop, Five Jills (62) in third place last

GONZALES, ANDERSON WIN For Tomia Here Pancho Gonzales battled his way to a 14-12, 6-3 victory over Australia's Lew Hoad Tuesday night in Dillon Gymnasium. Gonzales, world's professional tennis champion, broke Hoad's service with the score and led at 12' games apiece and 30-all.

A crowd of 1,800 watched as Mal Anderson easily overcame his countryman, Ashley Cooper, 6-3.

6-3, in the other singles match, Gonzales and Hoad then teamed to defeat the other pair, 8-6, in a set-set doubles exhibition.

TIGERS BEATEN AGAIN

On Two-Hitter, Rider College launched a Princeton baseball rivalry Tuesday on its new Lawrenceville diamond by trimming the Tigers, 4-3. The Orange and Black collected only two hits off Jack Madden, an impressive 6-4 operative reportedly being sought by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The victory was away to a 4-0 lead, largely on the first-inning wildness of starter Bill Wooler, bettered by Princeton got untracked. It took a pair of errors to help push over three runs in the seventh, but when darkness halted the game an inning later, the Tigers were still one behind.

PCD WINS FIRST

Rally Trims Witherspoon, Mac McMorris sliced a single to right with two runners aboard Tuesday afternoon to win his own game as Princeton Country Day edged Witherspoon, 2-1. Both McMorris and losing pitcher Keith Van Noy pitched tightball last in the unusually well-played game.

After Witherspoon had broken the scoreless tie with a run in the top of the sixth, Captain Charlie Stuart opened the home half of the seventh with a line single to center. He stole second and then, taking the latter bag as Joe McMorris led first on a dropped third strike. Coffey, second baseman, and McMorris followed with his game-winning safety.
